

All Fourteen 8,000ers

Alan Hinkes is the only Briton to have climbed all fourteen 8000m peaks. He relates these epic ascents through his down-to-earth accounts and remarkable photographs – the successes and near misses, base camps and summits, and the people he has got to know along the way – as well as the beauty, harshness and danger of the world's highest mountains.

'50 years after the first ascent of Kangchenjunga, Alan's amazing account portrays how mountaineering has moved on. An insight into an extraordinary man.'
